THE LEGISLATURE.

Craig's Bill Passes Senate—Summary of Yesterday's Proceedings.

Raleigh, Feb. 2.—The senate was called to order at 10 o'clock and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Barry. Petitions were filed, reports of committees made, numerous bills were introduced, after which the following bills passed final reading: To amend section 1,308, of The Code, relative to the drainage of lowlands; to amend the stock law of Henderson county; to amend chapter 399, laws of 1891, allowing the directors of deaf and dumb school at Morganton to elect officers in case of vacancy, provided that not more than one director shall come from one county; to authorize the commissioners of Craven county to set aside a sinking fund to pay the bridge debt of that county; a bill entitled an act supplemental to an act to unite the Richmond, Petersburg & Carolina Railroad company; to domestic foreign corporations (Craig's bill.) Senator Franks came in the senate during the reading of this bill, and when Senator Cooke asked that he vote he said that without knowing anything about the bill he thought he would be pretty safe in voting no. The vote stood 45 to 1, and Senator Franks stated that after mature deliberation (laughter) he would vote aye. The vote was then unanimous for the passage of the bill. Senator Osborne (by leave) introduced a bill to amend chapter 49, of The Code, of 1883, and Senator McIntyre (also by leave) introduced a bill regarding the disposition of the insane and inebriate among the Croatan Indians. A bill to amend the chapter of the East Tennessee & Western North Carolina railroad company passed third reading, as did a bill to repeal section 1,333 of The Code. This section prohibits the buying and selling of pretended rights or titles. At 12:20 the senate resolved itself into committee of the whole for the consideration of the bill to amend consolidate and codify the insane laws of North Carolina. The first section brought under discussion was 66, of the printed bill. This section provides "that the criminal insane shall be cared for and treated in the wards of the penitentiary, which have heretofore been assigned for the purpose."

* * * and the said wards shall be known as the department of the criminal insane and the board of directors of the penitentiary is given full control and management of said department. After a lengthy discussion as to the merits and demerits of the bill, Senator Daniels offered an amendment to strike out the word dangerous wherever it occurs in sections 65 to 72, which was adopted. The effect of this amendment is that when persons who are not dangerously insane are confined in an asylum, and become dangerously insane, they shall not for this cause be removed from the institution. The committee rose at 1:45. By leave, Senator Cooke introduced a bill for the protection of fish and game in certain parts of Buncombe county. The senate adjourned at 2 o'clock.

IN THE HOUSE.

The house met at 10 o'clock, and Rev. Dr. W. C. Norman offered prayer. A resolution was favorably reported recommending that the state arsenal be removed from the capitol square. Bills were introduced and the calendar was taken up. Bill to equalize payment of state witnesses, sheriffs and clerks was tabled. Bills passed final reading: To give New Hanover the road law and to allow its people to vote on the tax; to amend charter of Elizabeth City; to amend the law regarding probates and the private examination of married women, by simplifying the probate laws regarding proof in recording and probating deeds and other papers, being a complete revision of the chapter of The Code; to repeal chapter 66, volume 2, of The Code, and create new wreck districts; to appoint Joseph R. Hess a justice of the peace for No. 1 township, Madison county (13 fusionists voting no). By leave, Robinson introduced a bill to give Cumberland county additional terms of superior court, and Bartlett a bill for relief of John A. Sims. Bills passed: To amend chapter 297, acts 1895, by excepting Beaufort county; (resolution) to raise a joint committee on election of justices of peace. Bill introduced by Winston to provide working convicts on the county farms, in making food supplies for themselves and the county poor, and also for their working the public roads. Winston, explaining and advocating the bill, said convicts were so used in Bertie county and with entire success. The law is not obligatory or mandatory, but gives the counties power, if desired, to thus dispose of their convicts, and also to take convicts from counties which may not desire to avail themselves of the law. Winston said that this use of convicts had effected a saving of over $1,000 in ten years in

IT LOOKS DARK FOR EWART

There Does Not Appear To Be Any Doubt of His Defeat.

NORTH CAROLINA PETITIONS

Introduced By Senator Pritchard. Petitions From Tarboro and Winston—Other News Items.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 3.—To unprejudiced persons, there does not appear to be any doubt of the defeat of Judge Ewart in his aspirations to become judge of the circuit court for the western district of North Carolina. If the office were of a purely political character, the friends of the candidate might be able to convince the senate that the unfavorable report from the committee to which the nomination was referred, was due to political antagonism. In a judicial nomination, however, this will be difficult, as it is the universal rule of the senate to require in a nominee for a judgeship unqualified fitness for the office to which the candidate seeks, as well as unblemished character, and spotless reputation. In view of the charges which have been made against Ewart, which may be true or false—the senate committee on the judiciary, having thought sufficiently of them to order an unfavorable report—it is not conceived how the friends of the judge can hope for a majority of the senate to overturn the judiciary committee. The general opinion is, outside of the friends of Judge Ewart, that if the nomination comes to a vote in the senate it will be rejected, and the president will in that event appoint another man, who can command the support of a majority of the senate.

In any event it would appear that Judge Ewart is defeated, for it is not believed, if the nomination is hung up on the senate calendar, that the president will again reappoint him, for should the chief executive send his nomination to the senate again at the next session of congress, he would almost surely be rejected. The friends and opponents of Judge Ewart agree that had a vote been reached during the last session he would probably have been confirmed—in other words they agree that the judge is not as strong now as he was during the last session.

W. S. Hyams, clerk to Senator Pritchard, who has been suffering from an attack of the grip for some weeks, is reported to be seriously ill. The friends of Mr. Hyams feel considerable anxiety as to the outcome of the disease.

Senator Pritchard has presented several petitions. Among them are the following:

From the board of trade of Tarboro praying for an appropriation for the improvement of Tar river and Fishing creek in North Carolina.

From the board of trade of Tarboro for enactment of legislation to increase American shipping.

From the Young Peoples Christian Endeavor Society of the Calvary Moravian church, Winston, for legislation to prohibit transmission by mail or interstate commerce of pictures or descriptions of prize fights.

From the Young Peoples Christian Endeavor Society of Calvary Moravian church, Winston, for maintenance of the prohibition law of Alaska, and Indian Territory, and to extend it to our new dependencies.

Also from same society, a petition to prohibit the sale of liquor in cantons, etc.

From the chamber of commerce of Knoxville, Tenn., asking for continuance of appropriation for the fast mail service between northern and southern cities.

Among North Carolina people in Washington are ex-Representative Settle and wife. During their stay in Washington they are the guests of Mrs. Ex-Senator Vance, who is residing here during the winter.

A number of postmasters have been appointed in North Carolina as follows: Baldwin, Ashe county, James M. Edwards; Blevins, Ashe, Jacob Blevins; Darby, Wilkes, James A. Keas; Golden, Rutherford, Jasper Y. Yelton; Mill Spring, Polk, Nancy W. Thorne; Oregate, Cherokee, J. T. L. Hartness; Rehoboth, Northampton, H. H. Duke; T. Weed, Buncombe, A. S. Dotson; Winterville, Pitt, McG. Bryne; Wendal, Edgecombe, L. W. Melton.

John T. Pannill, of Reidsville, N. C., is at the St. James Hotel.

DISPENSARY BILL CHANGED.

To Meet Certain Objections Which Have Been Raised.

ALDERMEN TO SELECT BOARD.

Punishment For Minor Offences Modified—A Statement By The Central Committee.

To Editor Telegram:—It has been claimed that some friends of the dispensary plan object to certain features of the bill and that they would support the measure if certain changes were made. The bill has been changed so as to meet these demands and it is believed that the changes made will not affect seriously the efficiency of the dispensary.

1. There was objection raised in the western part of county to creating one county dispensary at Greensboro with the proposed division of revenue between city and county. The bill has been changed so as to apply to the city only, with a provision that no license to sell within one mile of the city limits shall be granted.

2. It has been urged that dispensary board of directors should be elected by the board of aldermen of the city of Greensboro instead of appointed by the district judge. The bill has been changed so as to leave the election of the board of directors to the board of aldermen, and the original board of directors instead of being named in the bill will be elected by the board of aldermen. The first board of directors of the dispensary will be elected by the present board of aldermen and after the first election one vacancy in the board of directors will be filled by the board of aldermen every two years.

3. It has been claimed that for minor offences, such as drinking, loafing or loitering at the dispensary, the penalty of the original bill was too severe. The bill has been changed so that these offences are brought within the jurisdiction of the magistrate and be punished at his discretion with fine not exceeding $50.00 or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days. The bill also provides that for more serious violations of the dispensary law, such as the illegal sale of whiskey, the punishment will be fixed by the superior court and is not to be less than a fine of $100.00 or imprisonment for three months. This provision will commend itself to all who want to see the dispensary law enforced.

4. The section of the original bill relating to clubs has been construed by some to prevent the discretionary use of liquors in the home of the individual, and it has been claimed that under the provisions of the original bill a citizen could not offer a friend a drink at his own house. The bill as originally drawn was never intended to make any such requirement and it has been amended so as to remove all possible doubt as to its real meaning, the purpose of which was merely to prevent an evasion of the law by clubs.

5. It has been argued by many that the establishment of a dispensary should be submitted to a vote of the people, and the reason that has been assigned is that unless this is done it will throw too great a responsibility upon our representatives at Raleigh and endanger the position of our local democracy. By way of meeting this objection it has been proposed by the managers of the dispensary bill that the matter be submitted to a vote of the white people of Greensboro in a primary to be held by the board of aldermen, each ballot cast to be signed by the voter, which would secure an absolutely fair count. In as much as the last election was on the platform of white supremacy, we claim that the settlement of this question by a vote of the white people of Greensboro would remove all responsibility from our representatives in Raleigh and would be exactly in line with the platform of the dominant party. This plan has been suggested in order to meet the objection made and in order to relieve our representatives at Raleigh and the party in power from all responsibility for the settlement of this non-political measure. It is not the purpose of any one connected with this dispensary movement to embarrass any one in any way but it has been demonstrated that more than three-fourths of the white people of Greensboro want the dispensary, and it is neither right nor democratic that the will of such a majority should be thwarted in any way.

J. S. Hunter, A. M. Seales, A. W. McAllister, Central Committee.

ABOUT THE DISPENSARY.

A Louisville Attorney Writes Col. J. T. Morehead.

Louisburg, N. C., Jan. 28th, '99. My Dear Col.—Your letter about dispensary reached me right in the midst of our superior court and, therefore, I could not possibly reply at once.

1. The dispensary pays one and half times as much as the saloons the first year. We actually did this and still had $2,000.00 profit. We really made for the public two and half times as much as the saloon.

2. The people did not vote on the question. A whiskey election is generally a debacle. The people wanted to avoid this.

3. It has reduced drunkenness greatly.

4. The violation of town ordinances has been reduced one third.

5. Disturbances at night never occur.

6. Many people who fought the dispensary when it was brought up are now its ardent friends.

7. A petition has been in circulation asking the legislature to submit it to the vote of the people. I am informed that not over 15 or 20 white men have signed this petition. At least 90 per cent of the white people in the district are in favor of it.

I am sorry not to be able to argue the matter fully but I am persuaded that the dispensary system is the best solution of the liquor problem which present conditions will admit. Wishing you every good thing, I am Very faithfully,

Any one desiring the authorship of this letter can obtain same by applying to Col. J. T. Morehead.

Fatality in Pittsburg.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Pittsburg, Feb. 3.—At half past one o'clock this morning a two-horse wagon load of furniture on which five men and one woman were riding was struck by a fast B and O freight near McKeesport. Four of the men were killed outright. The other died later in the McKeesport hospital, and the woman will not recover. The train was making fast time and smashed the wagon into kindling wood. The victims were Hudson Elder, Vest Wilson, George Dawson and two unidentified men. Mrs. Dawson is supposed to be the name of the woman.

An Unusual Treat.

An unusual treat is in store for this city in the visit here of the Louise Brehany Ballad and Opera Concerts, a company of Metropolitan artists, headed by the favorite ballad singer of America, who give in connection with other musical gems an act of the grand opera Martha, in costume. Louise Brehany has earned her great reputation quickly, and no young singer has had a greater series of successes than she. Within the last five years she has been special soloist with the following great organizations, Sousa's Band, The Chicago Marine Band, Edouard Remenyi's Concerts and Brenard Listemann Quartette, and now she comes to us at the head of as fine a concert organization as can be gotten together, including as it does W. Guillaume Savvier, the eminent Belgian pianist, Agnes Pringle, a young violinist of unusual promise, Miss Jessie Waters, contralto, Geo. Dethlefs, baritone, Walter Herbert Wheatley, tenor, all splendid artists, in a program full of novelties and musical gems.

May Court-Martial Miles.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Washington, Feb. 3.—At today's cabinet meeting the question of a court-martial for General Miles was discussed. No determination was reached though there is no reason to believe a court of inquiry will be ordered.

A report on the best of authority says that Gen. Miles has prepared an appeal to congress if such a course becomes necessary. Should the president design to discipline General Miles or relieve him the general's friends in congress will at once demand an immediate investigation of the beef scandal.

Not Easy Selling.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Washington, Feb. 3.—The treaty has now 53 votes, while 60 are necessary. The additional votes may be secured by the adoption of the Sullivan resolution, but this is not certain. The talk today is that the taking of a vote on the Sullivan resolution may be prevented by the opponents of the treaty in order to hold the negative votes on their side.

ABSORBED IN WHIST.

A Game That Cost General Doubleday a Fortune.

Not many years ago a famous whist game was played at Sandbury, Vt., two of the sitters in being General Doubleday and Henry Dater of the well known firm of Dater, Thompson & Co. It was something like 5 or 10 cents a corner; so you see it was easy for a man to lose as much as $1.00 in an afternoon. Play began after the Sandbury dinner hour, half past 1, and lasted until bedtime. The old roosters became so wrapped up in the game that nothing short of an earthquake could have disturbed them. Brokers in New York could do nothing to shake the interest.

The game was played at the time of the historic Hamblet and St. Joe corner, engineered by Kennedy, Hutchinson & Co., in the interest of their client, John Duff of Boston. Doubleday was selling the stock short through Van Schaick & Co., and at a quarter to 2 on the eventful day he received a telegram from his brokers advising him of the situation. The game was stopped just long enough for him to read it and lay it aside. In 20 minutes a second dispatch arrived, was read and cast aside. Doubleday was winning at the rate of 30 cents an hour. What did he care about Hamblet and St. Joe? Later in the afternoon a third summons came from Van Schaick & Co., and at 5 o'clock a fourth. Then Doubleday arose and remarked: "Gentlemen, I have enjoyed the game. My winnings are exactly $1.65. I must say good afternoon, it is necessary for me to take the first train for New York." The next morning his brokers informed him that he could settle for $100,000. At the time the first telegram was sent he could have settled for $25,000, at the time of the second for $50,000, the third for $75,000. He had ample warning, but in the thick of the Sandbury game of whist he believed the rise was only a threatening bluff. —New York Press.

SCOTCH SIMPLICITY.

The Mason, the Building Architect and a Conscience Stricken Lad.

The Scotch are fond of telling stories which illustrate the peculiar simplicity of mind of their country people. This simplicity at least saves them from wicked guile.

One of these stories relates that an honest mason once had a contract to build a small house of stone. He came early and began from the inside to the stone, working very fast. At noon his young son brought him his dinner, peeping over the wall as he handed the basket to his father. With honest pride in his eye, the mason looked over to the boy.

"Weel, Jock, hoo d'ye think I'm gettin on?" he asked.

"Ye're getting on famous, feyther," answered Jock, looking at the solid wall, in which there was no break.

"But hoo d'ye get out?"

"The mason looked around." It was true. He had provided the house with no door at all, and he was on the inside. He looked kindly and very admiringly at the boy.

"Mon, Jock, ye've a grand held on ye!" he exclaimed. "Ye'll be an architect yet, as sure as yer feyther's a mason!"

Another story shows how unscrupulous as a thief the rustic Scot may be. Two young plowmen went into a garden at night to steal gooseberries. The bushes surrounded a plot of potatoes, and as one of the lads groped about he got a handful of potato plums, which he quickly put into his mouth. Then he gasped to his comrade:

"Oh, Jock, I'm poisoned! For only sake, shove me through the hedge quickly, for I wadna like to die 'e' the auld man's gairden!" —Youth's Companion.

Tobacco in England, 1846.

When I was a lad, fully half the population of both sexes, rich as well as poor, the banker equally with the workman, were snufftakers. My first schoolmaster always carried his snuff loose in his waistcoat pocket, and innumerable were his dips into it with two fingers and a thumb in the course of the day, while the big gauffered frill which protruded from the bosom of his shirt was always thickly sprinkled with it. We used to notice that he never seemed to relish one of his huge pinches so much as immediately after having administered a sound castigation to some recalcitrant pupil.

On the other hand, there was little or no open air smoking, except in the case of laboring men going to or from their work. In this respect indoor matches have something to answer for; but for them the practice of outdoor smoking would never have grown to its present enormous proportions. —Chambers' Journal.

An Unexpected Call.

"You are just going out, I see?"

"Yes, an important engagement. What was it you wanted?"

"It was about that little debt I owe you."

"Ah, yes! Take a seat."

"I was going to ask you for a little delay."

"Oh—excuse me, but I'm already late."

"I say, I was going to ask you for a little delay when I met a fellow who paid up what he owed me, and—"

"Why on earth don't you sit down? Will you take a glass of wine?" —Paris Figaro.

No Faith in Anything.

"Aunt Josephine is a thorough skeptic."

"She is?"

"Yes; she puts mackinlage on the back of every postage stamp she uses." —Chicago Record.

Elephants' Teeth.

Elephants have only eight teeth—two above and two below on each side. All elephants' "baby teeth" fall out when the animal is about 14 years old, and a new set grows.

Notice To Delinquents.

You will please call and pay your city taxes as the treasurer has no money to pay checks drawn on him as city treasurer. All taxes due the city must be paid on or before the 31st day of March 1899, or I will be compelled to advertise and sell property to satisfy amount of taxes. R. M. Rees, City Collector.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve Cures Piles, Scalds, Burns.

A Porto Rican Shave.

The Porto Ricans, who are all from their highest to the lowest, great dandies in their way, make soap out of coconut oil and homemade lye. And a fine soap it is, smooth and fragrant. This coconut oil soap is used for shaving. When a man wishes to have a shave in the morning, he starts out with his coconut shell cup and his donkey tail brush and bottle. It is never any trouble to find an empty bottle in Porto Rico, Cuba, Jamaica or almost any of the larger West India islands, even in remote spots in the mountains. At least 20 generations of thirty people have lived there and thrown away the bottles.

The man carries no mirror. He is too poor to own such a luxury. Not one of the houses in 20 in Porto Rico has even the very cheapest looking glass. But generally rich nature provides the mirror as well as the soap. The man goes to some convenient pool in the mountain stream where the water is quite still. There is his mirror. He breaks his bottle on a stone and deftly picks out a sharp piece of suitable size. Then he lathers his face profusely and begins to scrape away with his piece of glass, which in his hands works as well as the best steel razor. A cut, or even a slight scratch, is extremely rare as a result of this al fresco form of shaving. —Chicago Times-Herald.

The Larynx.

The larynx has been compared to a wind, a reed and a stringed instrument. The comparison of it to a violin gave rise to the not very accurate phrase "vocal cords," as the name of the two cushions which are its most prominent features. But no string so short as those "vocal cords" could produce musical base notes. In fact, the comparison of the larynx to any instrument which produces only musical tones is inadequate, to begin with. There is no instrument both song and speech, and as those comparisons view the larynx merely as a producer of musical sounds we have no further concern with them at present. Besides, the voice can be trained for speech, elocution and oratory without a knowledge of the physiology of the larynx.

We have the power of adjusting the larynx; of varying the tension of its cords, cushions or ligaments, as they have been variously called. We can do these things without scientific technical knowledge of how they are done, without any knowledge at all of voice physiology, and it is the work of the trainer of the voice to teach his pupils—or her pupils we may be allowed to say—how to do them. —Chambers' Journal.

The Boy and the Hare.

A pleasant story of the Duke of Devonshire comes from Chatsworth. He was strolling, gun in hand, through one of his own fields near Baslow when he started a hare, which he shot, and was going to pick it up when a small boy jumped out of a neighboring hedge and warned him off. "Here, meester," cried the small boy peremptorily, "yo' must natch that."

"Why not?" asked the duke, amused, seeing that he was not recognized.

"Why, it's th' duke's," answered the boy, "an he'll have you looked up if he knows."

"Oh," said his grace. "Then will you take charge of the hare?"

"Aye, that I will," answered the boy promptly. "Me father's a keeper."

Half an hour afterward the boy and the hare arrived in the kitchen at Chatsworth. The duke had taken a short cut home and had the boy brought to him. The little chap was dumb with terror when he learned what a mistake he had made, but the duke gave him a 5 shilling piece, called him "a good lad" and sent him away rejoicing.

Smart Little Girl.

A little girl who has just entered school jubilantly announced to her father that she had beaten all the girls above her in the arithmetic class and gone to the top.

"That was clever of you," said he encouragingly. "How was it?"

"Well, you see, the teacher asked the girl at the head how much was 8 and 5, and she didn't know and said 13, and the next girl said 9, and the next of said 11, and the next one said 14. Such silly answers! Then the teacher asked me, and I said 13, and she told me to go top. 'Course it was 13.'"

"That was nice," said the father. "I didn't think you could add so well. How did you know it was 13?"

"Why, I guessed it. Nobody said 13." —Pearson's Weekly.

The Libelous "They Say."

The one term "they say" is responsible for nine-tenths of the lies which repetition and familiarity finally convert into seemingly bona fide evidence. One usually hears an exciting bit of gossip launched forth with these words, "They say," and the speaker, while at the same time the speaker, adroitly shields himself by declaring that personally he does not know it to be true. The man or woman who thus screens himself or herself is nothing short of a coward. —Josephine Hill in Woman's Home Companion.

Current Literature.

"You are preparing a new edition of your popular novel," said the caller.

"I am," replied the novelist.

"Well, I have a proposition by which we may both make money. Where you say, 'She gazed her lips to his,' why not add, 'using Styker's celebrated gine'?" —Philadelphia North American.

"De trouble wit some men dat knows a heap," said Uncle Eben, "is dat dey hab such a positive way o' tellin it dat dey makes folks too mad to listen." —Washington Star.

"Many a man," once said Phillip Brooks, "can say, 'I did the things my father told me, but the man I am my mother made me.'"

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill. Howard Gardner.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases, and hence the most difficult to get rid of.

There is but one way to cure it. The disease is in the blood, and all the sprays, washes and inhalant mixtures in the world can have no permanent effect whatever upon it. Swift's Specific cures Catarrh permanently, for it is the only remedy which can reach the disease and force it from the blood.

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Hardsburg, Ky., had Catarrh for years. He writes:

"I could see no improvement whatever, though I was constantly treated with sprays and washes, and different remedies. In fact, I could feel that each winter I was worse than the rest previous."

"Finally it was brought to my notice that Catarrh was a blood disease, and after thinking over the matter, I decided to try Dr. Swift's Specific."

"I used a perceptible improvement. Continuing the remedy, the disease was forced out of my system, and a complete cure was the result. I advise all who have this dreadful disease to abandon their local treatment, and take Dr. Swift's Specific, and take S. S. S. a remedy that can reach the disease, which has never been cured by any other means."

To continue the wrong treatment for Catarrh is to continue to suffer. Swift's Specific is a real blood remedy, and cures obstinate, deep-seated diseases which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases.

S. S. S. For the Blood is a purely vegetable and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no dangerous minerals.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Micanopy (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Florida and the South.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service

JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla.

This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2:20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jacksonville are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestal Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jacksonville. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. & P. R. R. and P. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A. F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thwait, E. P. A., Southern Ry., 271 Broadway, New York.

Such as the above is encouraging to

The Brehany Company.

In deciding to close a contract with the Louise Brehany Ballad and Opera Concert Company, at a high priced guarantee, I was influenced by the following points; viz. First, the completeness of the company, that is that having a complete quartette she can render all kinds of vocal numbers, duets, trios, quartettes etc. Second, the opera act in full costume which will add spice, besides the chorus numbers with a single quartette of artist voices sound better in our small opera houses than a full chorus.

Third, H. B. Thearle heads his list of seven or eight fine attractions with this company, and the Dramatic News gives glowing of their successes on the route they have just been.

This is not a stiff classic concert,
but a program to please all, the ballad singing of Brehany will be a treat indeed. They say you catch every word she sings.

This is a dollar attraction, but popular prices will rule. Seats now on sale at Gardner's, and the best are going fast. Reserved seats 75c.

AT THE ACADEMY.

The Whitney Players Gave Their First Show Last Night.

Through mud and slush a large audience made its way to the academy of music last night to greet the Whitney
Players in their opening performance.
Miss Jessie Atkinson, who is pleasantly remembered as having made a hit here with the Woodward-Warren people last season was the star of the evening, taking the leading role in the character of the "Little Widow."

Judging from the applause the audience was well pleased last night.
There were no tedious waits and the specialties were particularly enjoyed.
As a play there isn't much in the piece put on but it has plenty of ginger. Tonight the "Moonshiner's Daughter" will be put on, and as on last night, each paid 30 cent ticket will admit a lady and gentleman or two ladies.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Officer Whittington, this morning looked up a negro on suspicion of having stolen goods. The negro was trying to sell some harness and had an umbrella belonging to a lady in Rock Hill, S. C., whose name is engraved on the handle. The negro gave his name as Henry Green, and said he came here from Atlanta, last night.

Mr. Whittington telegraphed the chief of police of Rock Hill and received a reply, telling him to hold the negro by all means. The name on the umbrella is "Miss Janie Massey."
An officer will come after Green.

bakery line. I will devote my personal attention to the shop and see that everything is fresh and up to the standard. My bread will be handled by

Some Facts About Our MANTELS.

1. They are of handsome designs.
We "pick out" the best that a number of the best factories in the country can offer. We have a number of new and handsome designs now in stock.
2. They are made of selected woods.
There is a great deal of difference in woods—even in oak woods. Let us show you the difference between a piece of plain, coarse grained oak,
and a piece of handsome, quartered oak.
3. The workmanship and finish are faultless. Made and polished like a piano.
4. The people buy them. We furnished one customer over seventy mantels, with tiles. This speaks for itself.

Midwinter Closing Sale of Our Large Stock of Shoes.

Once every six months we hold a genuine closing out sale. Our Spring Shoes are now in process of making and before they will arrive we expect to close out the greatest part of our present great shoe stock. Of course we will have to sacrifice profit and even part of the cost of many of our shoes, but we will not summer over any of our winter shoes, no matter how great our loss.

The sales opens Thursday morning, so come early before the sizes are broken up

Of Interest to Parents

The little child of George White came near burning to death Saturday night. She was standing in front of the fire when her cotton dress ignited, and but for the quick heroic action of her mother, would have burned to death.
Mrs. White had her hands severely burned in putting out the clothing of her little one.—Durham Special to Raleigh
